ItemLogic

Assessment teams can create and manage item banks and assessments—easily and efficiently.

Districts need robust assessment programs that reflect students' needs and are aligned to learning standards. Many assessment teams want to develop customized, innovative assessment programs that include:

- item bank and assessment creation—including benchmark and interim assessments;
- collaborative workflow and review processes; and
- assessment content ownership and control.

Creating and managing district item banks and large-scale assessments can be complex and inefficient.

It takes time and expertise to create and manage assessment content. Assessment teams need the flexibility to use items and assessments in multiple systems at the same time or migrate to a new system without having to recreate content.

Now, districts have ItemLogic®—the item banking and assessment content management system used by leading K-12 assessment publishers. With ItemLogic, district assessment teams can create, curate and manage items, assessments and content from multiple sources—all in one place.

Record of Success

Assessment providers use ItemLogic to build and manage item banks, develop assessments, and curate assessment assets—all in one system.

A proven solution, ItemLogic enables the two leading K-12 item bank providers—Certica with the Navigate Item Bank™ and KDS with Inspect®— to manage their item bank content and distribute their banks to assessment platform partners.

Test publishers who have used ItemLogic to manage their assessments include CenterPoint Education Solutions™ (formerly Parcc, Inc.), Measurement Incorporated® and Measured Progress®.

District-Wide Assessments: Create large-scale assessments (e.g., grade-level, interim, benchmark) with a simple, intuitive authoring editor and test blueprints. Numerous item types offer dynamic and engaging content for your students.

District Item Banks: Develop district item banks and collections, and manage and store all item assets, metadata, learning standards and assessments in one place, including passages, images, videos and audio.
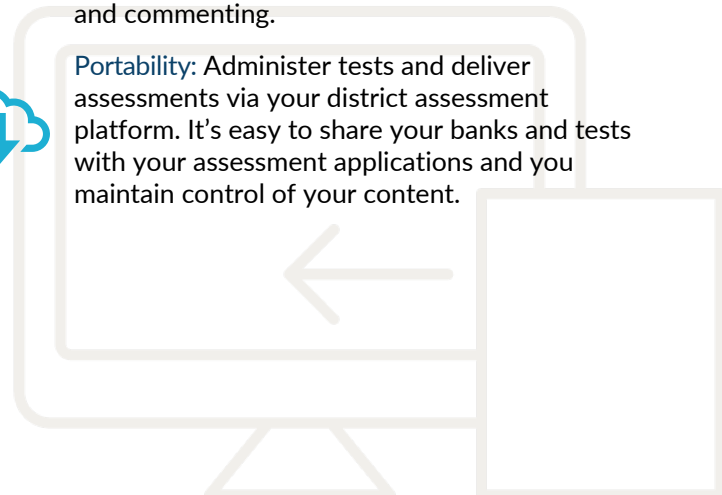

Standards Alignment: Align items to local learning standards for both core and non-core subjects. ItemLogic leverages the Academic Benchmarks standards database, you always have access to the largest collection of up-to-date standards.
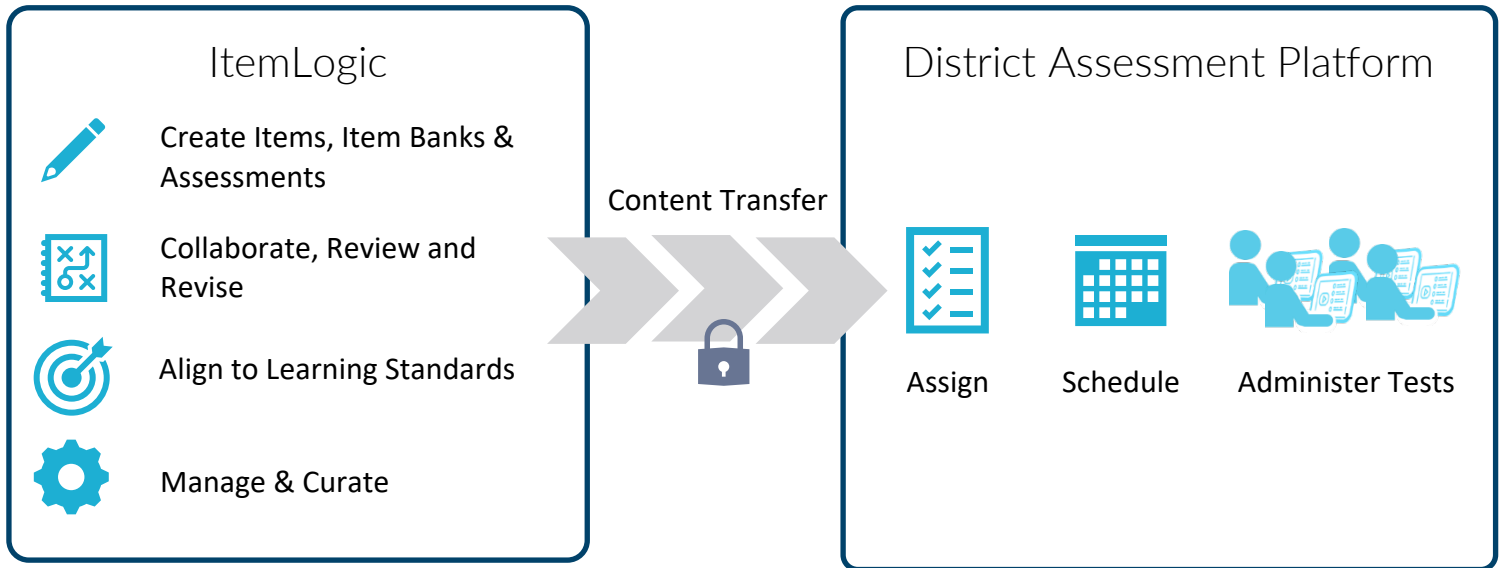

Collaboration: Use item creation workflows that foster collaboration and multi-level team engagement. Review and approvals are easy, including star ratings, thumbs-up/down tags and commenting.

Portability: Administer tests and deliver assessments via your district assessment platform. It's easy to share your banks and tests with your assessment applications and you maintain control of your content.

ItemLogic lets you expand your collection of district-developed items and tests, and seamlessly transfer tests and content to your trusted assessment platform.
